

ADRIANA GONZALEZ – VIOLET RICHARDSON AWARD

This year's Noyo Sunrise honoree is Adriana Gonzalez. Violet Richardson would be so proud of you! Adriana gets great joy from volunteering, which includes the Humane Society, the Food Bank, and her church, where she sings in the choir, helps with fundraisers, and is building relationships with her community.

Covid has limited her interaction with human mentors, but she has found ways to help as much as allowed. For the Humane Society she was a dog walker and she bonded with the animals. For the Food Bank she handed out food, prepared food bags, sorted and stocked supplies. She helped customers, made sure they had what they needed, and left happy.

Adriana said this job made her appreciate what she has and what the less fortunate are going through. She loves listening to their stories.

It is with great pleasure that Noyo Sunrise names you the Violet Richardson award winner for 2022, and with this comes a check for yourself and our club is also donating to the Humane Society and to the Food Bank on your behalf.
